

March 2026 ESCID Newsletter

The European Society for Coeliac and Intestinal Disorders (ESCID, until recently European Society for the Study of Coeliac Disease (ESsCD)) promotes research and clinical excellence across Europe. We welcome new members to our GDPR-compliant registry. We collaborate with partners like ESPGHAN, AOECS to advocate for Coeliac Disease within the UEG. Our multidisciplinary Board represents adult and pediatric gastroenterology, basic science, and clinical dietetics.

European Guidelines. We are happy to announce that the 2nd part of the Guidelines on Management, Follow-up, and Complex Disease Courses in Celiac Disease are now published with open access and available online. <https://onlinelibrary.wiley.com/doi/10.1002/ueg2.70195>. We are all indebted to Abdul Al-Toma and his core team in this huge effort!

Social media We will soon launch a new website where webinars, enteropathy rounds and society information will be announced: In the meantime, follow us on Facebook and on LinkedIn!

UEGW Oct 16-19th, Barcelona

Do not miss this years UEGW and submit your abstract! They can't wait to see what exciting scientific research we've been working on and look forward to our abstracts for UEG Week and DDM Summit. It is of paramount importance for „our disease“ that we are visible! The DDM summit is specifically dedicated to „basic scientists“ <https://ueg.eu/week/programme/ddm-summit>! This year UEGW also with Post graduate training course arranged by Fabiana and Knut. Abstract submission is open until April 24, 2026. Start writing your abstracts!

The Enteropathy Rounds of the ESsCD have been quite successful in discussing complex enteropathy cases. If interested to join and discuss your cases, please contact: Gerd Bouma: g.bouma@vumc.nl michael.schumann@charite.de
